US Income Tax Withholding on MLP Distributions Received by Non-US Unitholders

US income tax withholding generally applies to distributions made to foreign unit holders in 2010 and in later years. Nominees that receive quarterly cash distributions from us which are to be paid directly to (or for the account of) any foreign person by such nominees are treated as the US tax withholding agent with respect to these cash distributions, and the obligation to withhold US income tax from such distributions will be imposed solely on such nominees. Foreign unit holders must obtain a taxpayer identification number from the Internal Revenue Service and provide that number to the nominee withholding agent on a Form W8-BEN (or applicable substitute form) in order to be able to claim an income tax credit in the foreign unit holder's annual US federal income tax return for the withholding taxes paid with respect to our quarterly distributions.

We have determined that the minimum quarterly cash distributions received by foreign persons beginning in 2010 are subject to US income tax withholding under applicable Internal Revenue Service guidelines. Nominees receiving quarterly cash distributions from us on behalf of foreign persons beginning in 2010 should consider this determination in meeting their withholding tax obligations for quarterly distributions paid to, or on behalf of, all foreign unit holders during 2010. We will provide similar guidance to nominees on an annual basis as required under the applicable Internal Revenue Service guidelines.
